Application for Junior Consultant

Dear Sir/Madam,

I want to apply for junior consultant position, with reference to the opening currently listed in Aalto University's career web portal. I am currently studying Masters in Science in Aalto University's School of Electrical Department.

I completed my Bachelor's in Technology with Electronics and Communication as my major in 2012 and served as software engineer (Ruby on Rails developer) till 2014 in Cybage Software Pvt. Ltd, India. I have enjoyed working with a competent team of Ruby on Rails developers to develop and maintain web applications for Japanese e-commerce giant.

Working closely with the client and various teams to ensure proper requirement understanding and quality control helped me develop a clearer insight about various phases of software development from requirement analysis, implementation, quality control, product development and eventually its deployment. I have worked in agile software development framework where we set targets in each scrum considering scalability and agility.

We have flexible education system here in Aalto University, so I would definitely be able to manage time and serve something meaningful here in Ace also. The accompanying CV provides the overview of my skills and accomplishments. I would be happy to provide more information. I am very much interested to know more about the position.

Yours sincerely,

DINESH HYAUNMIKHA
